STIPULATION

Trial in this case is currently set for January 14, 2019. (ECF No. 82.)

On November 8, 2018, the Court heard argument on Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment ("MSJ") (ECF Nos. 94), after which the Court took Defendants' MSJ under submission (ECF No. 105). At the hearing on Defendants' MSJ, the Court indicated at least some of Plaintiffs' claims would survive summary judgment, and that the parties should consider ADR options, including seeking a settlement conference before the magistrate judge assigned to these cases.

If the parties are to meaningfully participate in further ADR efforts, a few things would be helpful. First, it would be helpful to have a ruling on Defendants' MSJ, so the parties can assess the strengths and weaknesses of their cases through an objective lens. A ruling on Defendants' MSJ will also help the parties identify any interlocutory-appeal issues that might arise from the Court's qualified-immunity determination.

Second, it would be helpful if the parties could focus on ADR efforts at this time, without expending time and resources on pretrial preparations that might be wasted. Pursuant to the Court's Civil Pretrial & Trial Standing Order, the following tasks, among others, must be completed before trial:

DATE	EVENT
December 11, 2018	Exchange Complete Set of Proposed Exhibits, Charts, Schedules, etc.
December 18, 2018	File Motions in Limine
	File Proposed Jury Instructions

December 26, 2018	File Proposed Voir Dire Questions
	File Proposed Verdict Form
	File Proposed Statement of Case
	File Trial Brief
	File Motion in Limine Oppositions
	File Joint Pretrial Statement & Proposed Order
December 27, 2018	Deliver Trial Binders
December 28, 2018	Request Court Reporter
anuary 7, 2019	Deliver Flash Drive of Exhibits
	File Motion to Allow Technology in Courtroom
anuary 8, 2019	Final Pretrial Conference
-	File Form/Table List of Exhibits
	File Form/Table List of Witnesses
a	ecember 27, 2018 ecember 28, 2018 inuary 7, 2019

Of course, many pretrial preparations will advance settlement, such as compiling exhibit and witness lists, and meeting and conferring with opposing counsel to resolve and narrow issues for trial. And the parties are prepared to undertake these efforts. Other tasks, however, such as motions in limine and compiling trial binders, will not advance settlement efforts and may result in wasted resources if these cases do settle.

Finally, while the parties are considering other ADR options, such as mediation, it would be helpful if the Court ordered Magistrate Judge Illman to set a settlement conference in these cases. Indeed, the parties would propose replacing the current trial date with a settlement conference, or holding a settlement conference once the parties have received the Court's ruling on Defendants' MSJ and as Judge Illman's calendar permits. The parties are also discussing private settlement/mediation options.

If the settlement efforts are unsuccessful, notwithstanding the Court's availability, based on the availability of counsel and witnesses in this case, the parties propose that trial in these cases be continued to February 18, 2019.
